

Saturday November 20, the Pawtuxet River Authority will conduct a huge river clean-up at Belmont Park in Warwick and also across the river in Cranston on Perkins Avenue. Both sites have much debris left over debris from the spring flooding. FEMA is paying for the dumpsters and PRA is mustering volunteers.

We will work from 8:30 to 12:30 and then have pizza for lunch. Folks can certainly keep working after lunch if they wish.

We will meet at Belmont Park (as you head south from Providence on Elmwood Avenue, take the first left after crossing the river). Some folks (like those with kids) can stay at Belmont Park and others can go over to Cranston where the debris is heavier and more difficult to get to. We will have gloves, but folks can bring their gloves too.

Start Date: 11/20/2010
